

T3 Motion Expands Its Clean-Energy Electric Vehicles International Presence to New Zealand

Sanzi Imports Ltd. to Receive T3 i-Series ESVs for Law Enforcement and Security Agencies Throughout New Zealand

Costa Mesa, CA (March 15, 2010) - T3 Motion, Inc. (OTC BB: TMMM www.t3motion.com) has expanded its international footprint through its partnership with Sanzi Imports Ltd. based in Auckland, New Zealand. Sanzi is the latest international distributor of the iconic T3 i-Series electric stand-up vehicle (ESV). The T3 i-Series is designed for international markets and has been deployed in the Middle East, Europe and Australia.

The zero-gas-emission T3 i-Series vehicles are being deployed at the Albany Campus of Massey University (north of Auckland) in time for the visit of John Key, Prime Minister of New Zealand, in April 2010. Sanzi Imports is anticipating the T3 i-Series clean-energy vehicles will receive wide publicity at this launch in New Zealand through the national and international TV and news media.

“Sanzi is very excited to work with T3 Motion to distribute the electric T3 i-Series vehicles to our New Zealand customer base,” said Chris Stiebel, Director of Sanzi Imports Ltd. “Clean technology and increased security capabilities are important to the New Zealand market. The T3 i-Series is designed for law enforcement and security agencies aiming to increase their presence, while simultaneously reducing their costs. The opportunity to deploy the first electric T3s in a college campus setting is ideal. It’s thrilling to know that the T3 i-Series will be an integral part of the public safety operations for the Prime Minister’s visit.”

“We are pleased to partner with Sanzi to distribute our clean-energy T3 i-Series in New Zealand,” said Ki Nam, T3 Motion CEO. “Our T3 i-Series ESVs are built for international public safety operations worldwide. Through our relationship with Sanzi, we look forward to bringing cost-effective, zero-gas-emission, clean-energy vehicles to New Zealand. The international market interest in our T3 i-Series alternative energy vehicles continues to substantiate how important our T3 Motion technology has become to the world of public safety and security.”
